INJURED BY BAG OF FEED

Lewis Storm Injured at McIlhenny Warehouse when Hundred Pound Bag of Feed Strikes him with Great Force.

Lewis Storm, farmer on the W. A. McIlhenny farm in Straban township, was seriously injured this morning at the warehouse of McIlhenny Brothers, on Carlisle street, when a hundred pound bag of feed dropped on him from the third story of the building.

Mr. Storm had taken a load of wheat to the warehouse and was standing in his wagon at the side of the building waiting for some molasses feed to be lowered from the third floor. Two bags were tied together and as they swung out, one became loose and dropped, striking Mr. Storm with terrific force on the left shoulder.

He fell in a heap in the wagon bed and was unconscious for some minutes. Dr. H. M. Hartman was summoned and after preliminary treatment the man was removed to his home about two miles from town. He suffered severe pains in the head and shoulder, and the injuries, while not thought to be of a dangerous nature, will likely keep him housed up for some time.

Fortunately the horses in the wagon stood still and Mr. Storm in falling stayed in the wagon or a much more serious result would have followed the accident.

TWO MERCHANTS TAKEN BY DEATH

Samuel Steffan, Retired Abbotstown Merchant, and George Trimmer, Former York Springs Business Man, Taken by Death.

GEORGE TRIMMER

George Trimmer, formerly of York Springs, died suddenly in Lancaster about midnight Monday aged 56 years.

Mr. Trimmer had been living in Lancaster for the past eight years and was engaged in the insurance business. For several years he had not been in good health and about six o'clock Monday evening went to the office of a physician. While there he became violently ill and gradually grew worse until he died about midnight.

For many years Mr. Trimmer conducted a hardware store in York Springs and spent part of the time at his home there even after moving to Lancaster. He leaves his wife who was Miss Nervie Trostel.

The funeral will be held Thursday with interment at noon in Sunny Side cemetery, York Springs.

SAMUEL STEFFAN

Samuel Steffan, of Abbotstown, after an illness of eleven months, died Monday, aged about 65 years.

He is survived by one brother, Edward Steffan, and a step-sister, Miss Sarah Flickinger, both of Abbotstown.

Mr. Steffan was a resident of Abbotstown the greater part of his life, and some years ago was engaged in the mercantile business in that town. He was a devoted member of the Reformed church of Abbotstown, taking a deep interest in church affairs. He was also a member of Hanover Lodge No. 327, I. O. O. F.

STARR WITH LOWELL

Littlestown Base Ball Player Joins Lowell Team for the Season.

"Billy" Starr, of Littlestown, the baseball player, has gone to Lowell, Mass., where he will play third and captain the team of that city this season. Starr is one of the cleverest infielders the game has developed in this section. He played with the Mercersburg Academy nine for several seasons. Last year he was with Scranton and finished the season with Hanover. Manager Heckert, of the York Tri-State team, wanted him, but he was too late with his offer.

THROUGH HERE

Local People Recall Visit of Speeding Car through here.

On March 26 two automobiles, a Packard and a Mercer, raced through Chambersburg from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia. Both exceeded the legal speed limit outrageously. The Chief of Police sent their numbers to Pittsburgh police and the Packard Company sent a check for $16, covering the fine and costs.

Many Gettysburg people saw at least one of these cars pass through here, it is said, at a rate of speed far beyond the limit.

FEW ANGLERS

Anglers for Trout Were Few. Muddy Condition of Streams.

RUNAWAY CAB STRIKES TRAIN

Caboose Runs away Near Highfield and Catches a Train before it is Able to Escape. Two Hurt when they Jumped.

Tearing down the mountain side at a speed of more than a mile a minute a "runaway" caboose, crashed into local freight engine, No. 315, in charge of Conductor Lawrence and Engineer Daubs, at night shortly after 10 o'clock, near Highfield, completely demolishing the front of the engine, and reducing the caboose to a mass of splinters. Engineman Daubs and Fireman Hise were slightly injured by jumping.

The caboose was supposed to hold down the rear end of an east-bound freight train, but as the train neared Highfield, the caboose, tiring of its long, slow journey up the mountain-side, decided to take a little "joy-ride."

Breaking loose from the train, the caboose started on its wild, exciting journey. People living along the railroad track at stations, attracted by the unusual sound, came running to find its cause. Upon reaching their front doors, the rumbling noise had greatly increased, and in a second, the indistinct object would pass like a flash.

Residents living in the vicinity of Edgemont, declare that the caboose passed there not a mile under sixty-five, while a number of Smithsburg people, who hearing of the "runaway," had gathered to watch it flash by, state that it was making a good eighty.

The crew of the local freight had received orders at Cavetown, to "get into the clear", as quickly as possible. Thinking that they would be able to do this before the "runaway" reached them they started for the siding, a short distance west of Smithsburg. Just as they arrived at the siding, Engineman Daubs and Fireman Hise, realizing that a collision was inevitable, jumped for their lives. The men were badly shaken up by the twenty five foot fall.

Then the crash came. The impact of the fast-moving caboose against the light freight engine was terrific. The entire front portion of the boiler was knocked in, and the head-light and pilot torn away. The caboose was torn from its trucks and flung down the steep embankment. A coal stove upset, setting fire to the debris of the wrecked caboose, which contained the clothing of the crew, some of which was destroyed. The crew of the local freight succeeded in extinguishing the blaze, and put their efforts to clearing the track. Again the caboose caught fire and again it was extinguished. Four times these occurrences interrupted their labors.

A slight delay in traffic resulted from the runaway.

McSHERRYSTOWN

McSherrystown—Rev. L. Aug. Reudter gave one of his illustrated travel lectures in St. Mary's hall Tuesday evening.

Holy Communion was administered in St. Paul's Lutheran church on Sunday by the pastor, Rev. C. W. Baker. The service was well attended and several new members were received into church fellowship.

Several citizens have taken the precaution to scrape the mud from the pike during the wet weather.

The funeral of Mrs. Cletus Storm, who died at Mount Misery, April 9th, from tuberculosis, was held from Conecaw Chapel, Saturday morning. A high mass of requiem was observed at 9 o'clock by Rev. S. J. Miller. Interment was made on the family lot in the chapel cemetery.

Nothing has been heard lately of the shoe factory proposition or of any other new industry in town. McSherrystown has been noted as a live cigar town and the same would be found true if another industry were started here. This would bring families to town and prevent our young people from securing work elsewhere; also increase the value of property and give employment to many more people.

President and Bryan See Japanese Ambassador.

THE VOTE WAS 58 TO 15

Measure Permits Other Aliens to Acquire Land by Declaring Purpose to Become Citizens, While Japanese Cannot Acquire Citizenship.

Washington, April 16.—Word was received here that the anti-alien land ownership bill passed the California assembly by a vote of 58 to 15.

Efforts to prevent friction between the United States and Japan over the California alien land holding bill were continued by President Wilson and Secretary Bryan in conferences with Viscount Chinda, the Japanese ambassador.

The ambassador called first at the White House to talk with President Wilson and then proceeded to the state department to confer with Secretary

Bryan.

There was no announcement as to the nature of the conferences, but it was admitted that the California problem was under discussion.

Without offending the people of California by any official interference with their legislative proceedings, the president and his secretary of state have unofficially conveyed to certain influential persons in California the hope that the projected legislation will not justify the Japanese government in asserting that it constituted a breach of the treaty obligations of the United States. The purpose of the conference, it is understood, was to ascertain whether the senate bill as amended is still objectionable to Japan, and if so, in what respect.

The ambassador is said to have indicated that further changes must be made in the bill before it can be said to be acceptable to Japan, and that these changes must take the form of amendments to place all aliens on even terms.

The Japanese government contends that the bill in its present state does not do this, in spite of the assertions of the promoters of the measure in the California senate that the discrimination contained in the first bill has been removed.

It was pointed out that as it stands the bill would permit the subject of a European state to acquire land in California by the simple process of declaring his purpose to become a citizen of the United States, while the Japanese cannot acquire citizenship. It is admitted that it would be difficult to amend the measure to meet this objection, without developing strenuous opposition from the large European colonies in California.

The negotiations are being carried on very cautiously, and it is assumed that the Japanese ambassador is communicating with his government at every step in the exchanges.

POSTMASTERS TO RETAIN THEIR PLACES

Won't be Disturbed Until End of Term, Except on Charges.

Washington, April 16.—Postmaster General Burleson announced that it was the administration's policy to continue all Republican postmasters in their offices till the end of their terms, provided no charges were sustained against their efficiency.

The policy applies to all classes of postmasters.

"My department will be run on business lines and not by politics," said Mr. Burleson. He said there might be some removals, but believed the majority of the postmasters were efficient and would not be disturbed.

Mr. Burleson said the decision had been made after conferences with President Wilson, who favors the merit system. A plan is being worked out for efficiency under the classified civil service, fourth class postmasters having been placed under that protection by Mr. Taft.

New Orleans, April 16.—Mrs. Jess Stroud, aged twenty, shot and killed her husband, vice president of the Vivian Oil company, when he attacked Edward Beeler, with whom she was horseback riding.

Mrs. Stroud and Beeler were riding along a public road when Stroud came upon them. He pulled Beeler from the horse and began thrashing him, at which the wife drew a revolver and shot her husband in the side.

Although badly wounded, Stroud continued fighting and his wife fired again. Mrs. Stroud became so infuriated when she saw that her second shot had struck Beeler, breaking his leg, that she placed the revolver to her husband's head and blew out his brains.

When placed in a cell Mrs. Stroud showed no signs of remorse for her deed.

DELAY IN CAUCUS
HOLDS UP TARIFF

May Not Get Into the Senate
Before June 1.

UNDERWOOD AGAIN LEADS

All Along the Line It Is a Fight Between City and Country Members In Democratic Caucus.

Washington, April 16.—Slow progress in consideration of the tariff bill by the Democratic house caucus has upset the prediction of administration leaders that the measure would be in the senate by May 1.

Many members predicted that the caucus would not be through the bill until the middle of next week. In that case the prospect is that it will be nearly June 1 when the bill passes in the house.

After a week of deliberation the caucus is less than half way through the bill, with several important schedules to be disposed of, notably wool and cotton.

The income tax is also certain to require considerable time for explanation. Representative Hull, of Tennessee, author of this section, will have charge of it in the caucus.

Representative Underwood, chairman of the ways and means committee, was sufficiently recovered from his illness to resume charge of the bill in the caucus, although his friends urged him to return home until completely recovered.

The caucus resumed consideration of the agricultural schedule, with wheat first on the list. Northwestern representatives opposed free flour, declaring it inconsistent with a duty of 10 cents a bushel on wheat. Citrus fruits also were the target for opposition, as well as the free listing of potatoes.

Representative Levy, of New York, moved to place wheat on the free list. Representative Fowler, of Illinois, offered an amendment to increase the proposed duty from 10 cents to 15 cents a bushel. The caucus rejected both amendments.

When the citrus fruit provisions were reached members from California and Florida began a fight to maintain the present duties on lemons, limes and oranges. Representative Church, of California, offered an amendment to restore the rates of the Dingley act as a compromise. Representatives Baker and Kettner, of California, and Sparkman, of Florida, supported the resolution, and Representative Harrison, of New York, defended the rates proposed by the committee.

The Church amendment was rejected, as was also an amendment to increase the duty on pineapples. This disposed of the fruit fight, and the agricultural schedule was soon after completed without a change having been made.

Persistent efforts to put cattle and sheep on the free list, to cut the duty on swine and otherwise to amend the bill were defeated.

The agricultural schedule was before the caucus, and there were some lively speeches. Many of the new members of the house aired their views, but each time there was a test the committee was overwhelmingly sustained.

All along the line it was a fight between the city and the country members. "The fellows from the city," as they were characterized by Representative Shackleford, of Missouri, attacked the agricultural schedule, which imposes small protective rates on nearly all products of the farm. The city members expressed the belief that to help the "market basket" all farm and food products should be put on the free list.

On the other hand, most of the members from agricultural states complained bitterly that the rates of the schedule under consideration sacrificed the interests of the farmers. They argued that the reductions would in nowise affect the cost of living, and that this being so it would be the wisest thing to accord the son of the soil a little more "incidental protection."

Eats Wild Parsnips and Dies.

Bellefonte, Pa., April 16.—Russell Price, nine years old, died in the local hospital from poisoning as the result of eating wild parsnips in mistake for artichokes. Only the efforts of hospital physicians saved the lives of his twelve-year-old brother and seven-year-old sister. The children had been fishing along Spring run, and, becoming tired of the sport, began to dig for artichokes. They dug up several wild parsnips and in ignorance ate the roots.

Elect Democratic Congressman.

Boston, April 16.—John J. Mitchell, Democrat, of Marlboro, was elected to congress in the Thirtieth district by an estimated plurality of 4455 over Alfred H. Cutting, Republican. The election was for the purpose of filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of John W. Weeks, a Republican, who resigned to enter the United States senate. Mr. Weeks carried the district last November by a plurality of 2351.

Boy Killed in Play.

New York, April 16.—John Miller and his brother, Lawrence, eleven and seven years old, respectively, found their fathers' old shotgun, and to make it more realistic stuck a lighter firecracker into the muzzle. When the firecracker went off it exploded an old charge in the gun. The shot entered Lawrence's side and he died in a few minutes.

Fined For Custom Frauds.

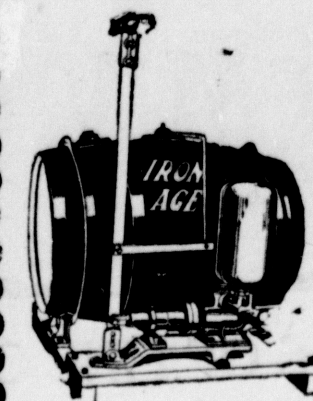

New York, April 16.—Robert M. Dearbergh, New York representative of Dearbergh Brothers, importers of straw braid, pleaded guilty to charges of under-valuing imports and was fined $2000.

CHILD LABOR BILL PASSES THE HOUSE

Act Fixing Working Hours For Woman Also Passed.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 16.—The Wal-nut child labor bill passed the house finally by a vote of 189 to 2. The Walnut companion measure, which would regulate the employment of females with respect to hours of labor and sanitary regulations, also passed on third reading, 182 to 6. Representatives Baldwin, of Delaware county, and Rothenberger, of Berks, were the only members to vote against the bill.

Mr. Baldwin, when the measures were reached on the calendar, moved that consideration of them be postponed until next Monday night. The motion was voted on, 133 to 44. Both bills go to the senate, which is expected to amend them in important respects. The child labor bill fixes fourteen as the age limit and provides that no one between fourteen and sixteen may be worked more than eight hours a day, while those between sixteen and eighteen may not be worked more than nine hours. The female labor bill fixes a nine-hour day. The Bigger bill, calling for a minimum wage for "certain females over sixteen years of age and certain children under sixteen years of age," to be determined by a commission consisting of three persons to be appointed by the governor, passed the house finally, 155 to 18.

ENDED HIS FUN

Sliding from Straw Stack Results in Broken Leg.

Falling from a high straw stack on the farm of William Sprengle, William, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Leese, of Nashville, York County, fractured his right leg between the knee and foot. The accident occurred while young Leese and several comrades were sliding down the straw stack. They were on top when the boy lost his grip and slipped. In his fall he turned a somersault, landing on his legs in a sitting position, Dr. L. A. Roth, of Spring Grove, reduced the fracture.

NAIL THROUGH FOOT

Workman at Thomasville Plant Has Very Painful Injury.

Charles Trimmer, of Nashville, sustained an injury to his right foot on Saturday, when he stepped on a nail, while at work at the Thomasville Stone and Lime Company's plant, at Thomasville. The nail penetrated his shoe and through his foot, so that the point of the nail could be seen piercing the skin at the top of his foot.

An Original Floor Decoration.

Luigi Ricci, one of Berger's carpet masters, was not without his eccentricities. He painted the floors of his rooms in oils to represent sheets of music paper thrown down at hazard and on these were extracts from his operas. These uncarpeted floors were given over to the peregrinations of many pigeons, which Ricci fed with ants' eggs!—Francesco Berger's "Reminiscences."

An Acrobatic Feat.

"Are sailors acrobats, mother?" asked a little boy who was reading a story of the sea.

"Why do you ask?" said the mother. "Because," explained the boy, "this old sailor in the book sat down on his chest!"—London Globe.

DANGER FROM GRIPPE

Lies In That Cough and Weak Worn Out Condition.

Grippe, pleurisy, pneumonia, these are greatly to be feared at this time of the year.

To prevent grippe from being followed by either pleurisy or pneumonia, it is important to drive the last traces of it out of the system quickly.

Our advice is to take Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil, and get your strength and vitality back quickly.

Mrs. A. A. Crabill of Strasburg, Va., says: "Grippe left me weak, run-down and with a severe cough from which I suffered four years. I tried different remedies, but nothing seemed to do me any good until I took Vinol, from which I received great benefit. My cough is almost entirely gone, and I am strong and well again, and I am glad to recommend Vinol to others who suffer as I did."

Try Vinol with the certainty that if it does not benefit you we will give back your money. People's Drug Store, Gettysburg, Pa.
